Dear Sir

 I note that you have lately published a memoir on Tetacella, which I have been unable to see as yet, and I take the liberty of writing to ask you upon the subject.

A friend and I have for the past few years been working at the Tetacella, upon which we expect to publish a memoir, and we are naturally desirous of acquainting ourselves with the work of others - I may say that our investigations have been carefully carried out, and that we have arrived at some important results.

Should you feel disposed and can spare a reprint of your article, we shall be happy to send you when published a copy of our own -

 Believe me

Yours sincerely
Wm. Davidson Boeck
